

About The Combined Federal Campaign

For more than four decades, the U.S. government has sponsored the Combined Federal Campaign—the world's largest workplace giving fundraising drive. In the last quarter of every calendar year, CFC invites civilian, military and postal employees to support eligible national and local charities. In 2002, more than 1.4 million federal workers chose to pledge to those charities an amount totaling almost a quarter of a billion dollars.

Employees choose the charities they wish to support from a list of charities that have submitted applications and been deemed qualified by CFC staff.

Employees may give once or request that a specific amount be withheld from their paychecks throughout the following year. The overwhelming majority of employees elect the ongoing payroll deduction program.

The CFC's combination of donor control and payroll deduction leads to high levels of enthusiastic support. Almost 40 percent of the federal workforce participates in the CFC each year, with the average pledge exceeding $150.

FDA JOINS AID TO AFRICA

The Foundation for Democracy in Africa has recently joined Aid to Africa a federation of charities helping to build a stronger sub-Saharan Africa. This alliance has put us in the position to be eligible for the 2004 Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) and our number is: CFC - 9956.

The problems facing Africa today are linked in complex ways and cannot be solved independently. Aid to Africa encourages a comprehensive approach, bringing together nonprofit organizations and their African partners working in four critical areas: conservation, food, health, and development. The Foundation for Democracy in Africa as many of you are aware, has touched on all of those areas, with its primary focus being on development

The Foundation for Democracy in Africa

The Foundation for Democracy in Africa (FDA) is a development organization committed to promoting democracy, sustainable development and economic growth throughout Africa. Founded in 1994, FDA is a Washington, DC-based, non-profit, 501(c)(3), non-governmental, non-partisan institution with offices also in Miami, Florida. In 1996, the Foundation was granted consultative status (special) as a non-governmental organization (NGO) with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC). FDA is also registered with the US Agency for International Development as a Private Voluntary Organization (PVO)
